

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Some people are hard to please. When the papers were full of doings of Speaker Reed, at the last session of Congress, the Democrats kicked like a mule because he was doing too much; now that the House is quiet and the Speaker does not find it necessary to squelch two or three obstreperous Democrats every day the same people are kicking and sneering because Mr. Reed is doing nothing to keep himself before the public. Don't worry, gentlemen. Speaker Reed is all right, and just as fully prepared to knock out any filibustering Democrats as he ever was, but the members of that party have learned something by their past experience and are no ways anxious to tackle the big man from Maine. We predict that Mr. Reed will make a greater reputation as a leader of the Republican minority in the House of the Fifty-second Congress than he has gained as Speaker of the present House. He is great as a presiding officer, but greater, in our opinion, as a fighting leader on the floor of the House.

The Democratic editors should hold a caucus for the purpose of getting together in their ideas, particularly as regards the tariff. One of them says in his paper: "We talk a great deal about protection nowadays, but it is mostly bluff and buncombe. The genuine article is not known to this generation of Americans," while another says: "The McKinley bill carries protection to an extreme never before dreamed of by its most radical advocate." Both of these editors cannot be right, in fact neither of them are, but the quoted language serves for specimens of the ignorance displayed in writing upon this very important subject.

The first step towards putting our coast and harbors in a condition to resist foreign attack were, like everything else of value in a legislative way, for the last thirty years, taken by Republicans, and now that the good work has fairly begun there should be no cessation until completed.

The idea of Canada buying Alaska from the United States is absurd in view of the fact that it is only a question of time when Canada itself will become, willingly or unwillingly, a part of the United States.

Republicans are not worrying about Behring's Sea matters; they know that American interests are in able hands and that they will be well taken care of.

The Farmers Alliance people are acting just like a successful political party—they are splitting up into factions.

Dead Indians come high this season, but the country demands them at any price.

COAST NEWS.

John Wild killed himself at Victorio, B. C. He had forged a check for $20, and learning that officers were on the way to arrest him, took poison.

Alexander Gutsch, a young surveyor who was working on the line of the proposed Lakeport and Ukiah Railroad, was shot in the left arm Tuesday by a lamp in the cellar of the Cooperative Furniture Company in the Hooper-Eldredge building on North Main street, Salt Lake City, Tuesday, a loss of $80,000 resulted.

There is much speculation over the identity of the two persons found—one dead, the other severely wounded—at a Bakersfield Hotel. The man is supposed to be John Beck, a discharged soldier, and the divorced wife of Clendennis, who shot Judge Pierce at San Diego, because he gave the custody of his child to the woman.

Query:—Does the darkness, hovering for the past two or three days over our fair Capitol, portend the utter depletion of our treasury or is the ominous sign intimated solely for holders of fat and sedentary positions?
